
Forth to Farne
Pilgrim Way
North Berwick to East Linton

Forth to Farne Way
North Berwick to East Linton

The pilgrim way is split into 11 sections, each section of the walk can be accessed from this map or by selecting the section from the drop down menu. To link from the map place the mouse arrow over the section of the map required and click.
Within the page for each of the sections the visitor will find much fuller information on the section and helpful walking instructions.

In addition to the information regarding the walking route there is now a booklet titled "A Pilgrimage in Words and Pictures". This has been written and edited by members of the Steering Group and is due to be printed in the very near future. The printing of this has been made possible by the very generous donation made by the Coldingham Bookshop and in the very near future there will be a stock of the booklet "A Pilgrimage in Words and Pictures" available in the Coldingham Bookshop.
It is also our intention to offer other opportunities for the distribution of this booklet, so bookmark this page and return soon when we hope to have fuller details.

With time it is our intention to have downloadable route instruction which will define, using grid references, the location of each decision point on the walking route. This data could then be used to load onto a GPX system.

While this site is in its development stage, any information or comments should be made by e-mailing to info@walkingsupport.co.uk.

The pilgrim way is split into 11 sections, each section of the walk can be accessed from this map or by selecting the section from the drop down menu. To link from the map place the mouse arrow over the section of the map required and click.
Within the page for each of the sections the visitor will find much fuller information on the section and helpful walking instructions.

In addition to the information regarding the walking route there is now a booklet titled "A Pilgrimage in Words and Pictures". This has been written and edited by members of the Steering Group and is due to be printed in the very near future. The printing of this has been made possible by the very generous donation made by the Coldingham Bookshop and in the very near future there will be a stock of the booklet "A Pilgrimage in Words and Pictures" available in the Coldingham Bookshop.
It is also our intention to offer other opportunities for the distribution of this booklet, so bookmark this page and return soon when we hope to have fuller details.

With time it is our intention to have downloadable route instruction which will define, using grid references, the location of each decision point on the walking route. This data could then be used to load onto a GPX system.

While this site is in its development stage, any information or comments should be made by e-mailing to info@walkingsupport.co.uk.